

Funded by

NIHR | National Institute for Health and Care Research

Hot weather, pregnancy, and newborn health – what are your views?

We want to hear your views about hot weather in England during pregnancy and the first month of a baby's life.

This includes your thoughts or experiences (if applicable) of the summer months.

Who can take part in the survey?

People (16 years old +) living in England who:

- are pregnant.
- have been pregnant in the last 12 months.
- are a parent, guardian, or carer of a baby aged 12 months or under (not as part of paid work).
- have been a parent, guardian, or carer of a baby aged 12 months or under in the last 12 months (not as part of paid work).
- are a partner of any of the above.

If any of the above apply to you, please share your thoughts and experiences with us in a 20–30 minute survey. There is also a chance to win a £50 shopping voucher.

This research will help develop guidance for future parents, guardians and carers.

Visit <https://bit.ly/hotweather-survey> or scan the QR code to complete the survey or to get more information, contact Charlotte Parbery-Clark (researcher based at Newcastle University)

via

Email: charlotte.parbery-clark@newcastle.ac.uk

or

Call/text: 07398 014647

Scan me

ADAPT-HEAT